Union Pacific to Bryce

1- [Utah Parks Company]. Bryce Canyon from Inspiration Point: Bryce Canyon National Park, reached via Union Pacific Railroad. [Omaha, NE]: Union Pacific Railroad, (c.1940). [44 cm x 31 cm] color poster. Near fine condition in nice original U.P. frame [51 cm 37 cm] that has a label at the foot of the back of the frame.

This bright image was likely produced from a photochrome, and was produced to promote trips from the Utah Parks Company, which was a subsidiary of U.P.

"The Spires of Bryce Canyon from Inspiration Point. Bryce Canyon National Park, Utah. There are whole cities of such spires in Bryce, their bases tinted with a deep rose, their tips glittering in brilliant frost-white. Bryce Canyon is one of the most spectacular sights ever beheld by man. Bryce Canyon National Park is quickly reached from East or West by the fast trains of the Union Pacific. Bryce is one of fifteen Western Nation Parks reached by the Union Pacific System, over its own lines or via direct rail steamer connections. The National Parks, set aside by Congress for your enjoyment, are yours. See them. In planning a National Park vacation, you'll usually find the Union Pacific the logical route to use."

- paper label on the reverse.

Colorado River and Island in the Sky from Dead Horse

2- Gerdts, Joern W. Colorado River 3000 feet below, as seen from Dead Horse Point. Salt Lake City. B/W photograph [17.5 cm x 23 cm] Image is near fine and has strong contrasts. Gerdts hand stamp on the reverse. Typed label taped on the reverse.

Dramatic shot of the Colorado River from Dead Horse Point, with Island in the Sky district of Canyonlands in the background.

Nice shot of redrock country, from the noted ski photographer, Joern Gerdts, who before his time in Aspen and Telluride, worked in Salt Lake (1946-48) with his wife, Louise.

Family Portrait in Garden of the Gods

3- Paul Goerke. [Balanced Rock]. Colorado Springs, CO: Paul Goerke, (c.1900). Boudoir albumen cabinet card [19 cm x 11 cm] On a cream mount [20.5 cm x 13 cm] with the photographer's hand stamp on the reverse in red ink. Near fine with strong contrasts.

Nice image of a family(?) in front of Balanced Rock, with the mother and daughter each on a donkey, and the father standing behind them.

Short manuscript note on the reverse: "Balance Rock. Garden of the Gods Colorado"

Abandoned Scofield

4- Ayre, John R. [Denver & Rio Grande Locomotive]. Scofield, UT: (c.1900). Albumen photograph [12.5 cm x 17 cm] on a gray mount [20 cm x 25 cm] 'John R. Ayre Scofield Utah' stamped on mount beneath image. Light wear to mount, with pin hole at head near center.

Image shows an abandoned locomotive. On the reverse of the mount in pencil: "D+RG #532 Baldwin c/v 11717 prob. at Scofield c.1905"

Bingham Steam Shovel by Shipler

5- [Shipler, Harry]. [Boston Consolidated Marion Shovel]. [Salt Lake City]: [Shipler Commercial Photographers], [November, 1906]. Large format gelatin silver photograph [20 cm x 24 cm] on a plain mount [cm x cm] Very good. Strong contrasts.

Image of the Marion Steam Shovel Model 91, in use by the Boston Consolidated Mining Company, along with a steam engine on parallel tracks. Utah Copper and Boston Consolidated merged after their separate surface operations approached each other in 1906.

"Harry Shipler probably knew as much about photography as anyone in this state--or a dozen states, for that matter--for he was a pioneer in the art. The principles of photography had, of course, been discovered before he was born, but he was taking excellent pictures long before such refinements as light meters or fast film was available." - Shipler's obituary Salt Lake Tribune.

Park City Hoist House

6- Carter, Charles W. Ontario Mine, Hoisting Works. Salt Lake City: C.W. Carter, (c.1885). Stereoview. Albumen photograph [8.5 cm x 16 cm] on a Carter / 'Stereoscopic Gems' orange mount [9 cm x 17.5 cm]. Manuscript note in red ink beneath the image: "[Park City (Ontario) Mines 1885]." Another note on the reverse in red and blue ink: "Park City - Mine Utah. Albert went down to the 1200 ft. level 1885. [20 Mi ESE Salt Lake] Dallas Texas 10/4/58 200" Image is sunned.

Nice image of the hoist at William Randolph Hearst's Ontario Mine, in Park City, Utah. Park City mining images are uncommon.

Brigham Getting Loose on His 70th

7- Brigham Young [70th Birthday]. [Salt Lake City]: June 1, 1871. Carte de visite. Albumen [8.5 cm x 5.5 cm] photograph on a plain cream mount [10 cm x 6 cm]. Title in ink beneath image. Image is sun faded.

Photograph taken of Brigham Young on his 70th birthday, by either C.R. Savage, C.W. Carter or Edward Martin. This image is very similar (clothes and pose) to the images taken on his 70th birthday in 'Brigham Young: Images of a Mormon Prophet' by Holzapfel and Shupe. (pg. 236-241)

"Thursday, June 1, 1871...Pres. Y[oung] accompanied by G.A. S[mith] went to Savage's Carter's and Martin's galleries and sat for likenesses. He sat eighteen times for his likenesses." - Historian's Office Journal.

Salt Lake Promo Piece in Underground Days

8- Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce. Salt Lake City: A Sketch of Utah's Wonderful Resources. Chicago: Rand McNally & Co., 1888. First Edition. 96pp. Octavo [22 cm] Green printed wrappers. Better than very good.

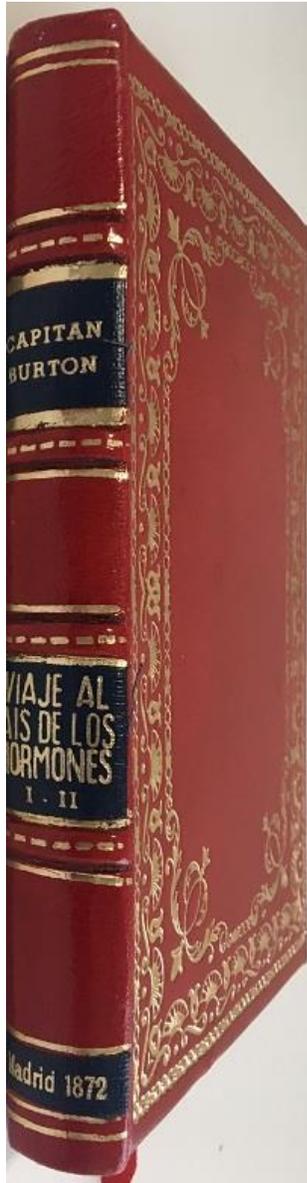

Illustrated with 29 full page images, mostly photographs, mostly by C.R. Savage, including three Salt Lake Temple construction images.

Chamber of Commerce produced work, touting the positive aspects of Salt Lake City to an East Coast audience. At the time of this work's publication the Edmunds-Tucker Act had taken effect, the LDS Church's assets had been seized, and the leadership of the LDS Church was in hiding, fearing imprisonment.

"Nothing is needed to insure a prosperous future to Salt Lake but to make known to the outside world the extraordinary opportunities here afforded for the employment of Capital and the exercise of intelligence, with promises of remuneration not found elsewhere. No one has examined the possibilities, or who has enjoyed the natural amenities of life in Salt Lake City, has ever been disappointed." - from the preface. Flake/Draper 7489.

First Spanish of Burton's City of the Saints

9- Burton, Richard F. Viaje al Pais de Los Mormones [The City of the Saints, and Across the Rocky Mountains to California]. Madrid: Imprenta de la Galeria Literaria, 1872. First Spanish Edition. Two volumes set (complete) bound together. 127, 127pp. Sextodecimo [16.5 cm] Modern red leather decorative gilt stamping to boards, and gilt stamped bands and labels on the backstrip. Gilt dentelles. Original yellow illustrated wrappers bound in. Near fine.

Translation of selected portions of Burton's 'The City of the Saints, and Across the Rocky Mountains to California,' first published in London in 1861. Issued as Nos. 24-25 of Biblioteca

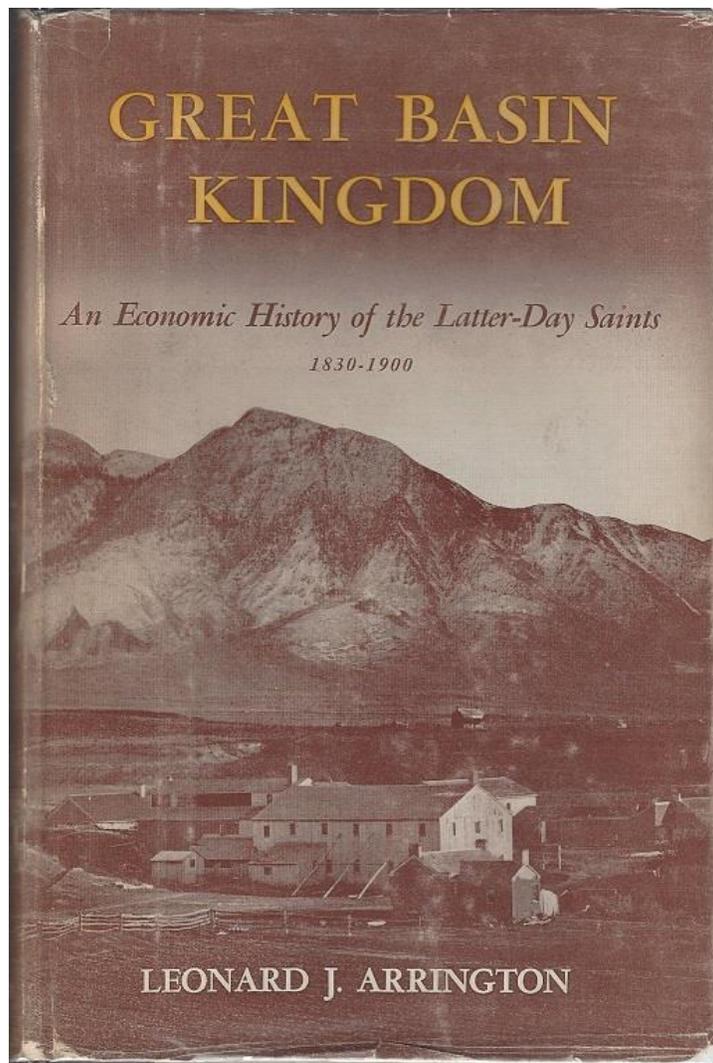

"Already celebrated for his travels to the 'holy cities' of the Old World, Burton made a pilgrimage in 1860 to Great Salt Lake City, taking the overland stage from St. Joseph, and after a few weeks among the Mormons, going on to San Francisco via the Comstock." - Carl Wheat.

I am able to locate four institutional holdings. Rare. Flake/Draper 1029b.

Arrington High Spot

10- Arrington, Leonard. Great Basin Kingdom: An Economic History of the Latter-day Saints. Cambridge, MA: Harvard University Press, 1958. First Edition. 534pp. Octavo [24 cm] 1/2 brown cloth over light gray striped boards with the title gilt stamped on the backstrip. Very good/Near fine. Gentle wear to the extremities of price clipped jacket. Internally nice.

Nicer than usually seen copy of this major work of scholarship (and by most accounts Arrington's most important work) by the celebrated and influential historian of the west and Mormon country, who's legacy can't be understated.

Only WPA State Encyclopedia

11- Fisher, Vardis [WPA]. The Idaho Encyclopedia. Caldwell, ID: The Caxton Printers, 1938. First Edition. 452pp. Quarto [26 cm] Green cloth with gilt stamped titles on the front board and backstrip. Very good/Near fine. Thumbnail sized chipped at the head of the jacket's front panel.

A lovely copy of this uncommon work.

According to Mangione ('The Dream and the Deal') the "idea for the encyclopedia had developed from Alsberg's suggestion, in 1936, that the Idaho staff prepare a state atlas. Fisher preceded to enlarge on it. He organized a task force of four hundred Idahoans to gather data, and within ten months produced an encyclopedia of 350,000 words, with sixty maps. Fisher considered it a far more difficult and valuable work than the [Idaho] state guide, especially as it was based on a variety primary sources not utilized in the guide." (pg. 208). Scharf/Schoyer 170. Powell 283. Dykes 70.

Celebrated Polygamy Memoir

12- Tanner, Annie Clark. A Mormon Mother: An Autobiography. Salt Lake City: University of Utah, 1969. Second Printing. 294pp. Octavo [22 cm] Publisher's brown grained buckram with the title gilt stamped on the front board and backstrip. Fine.

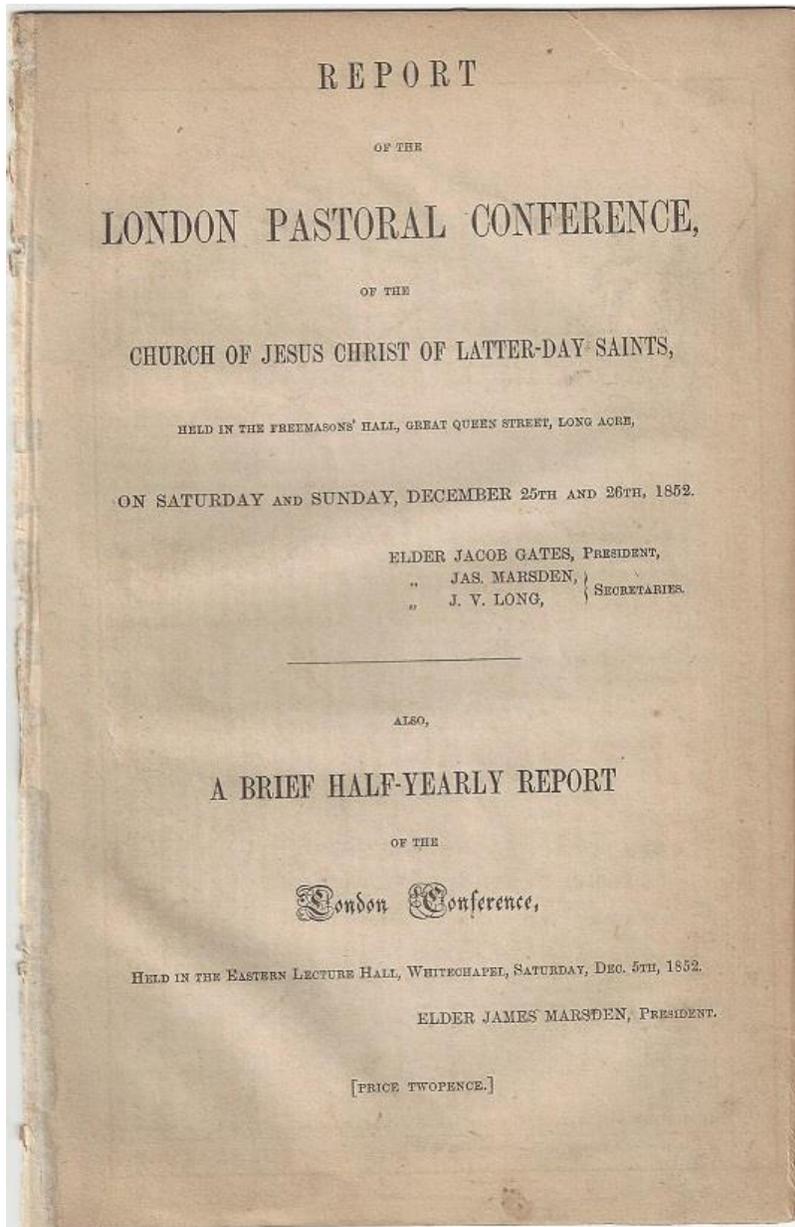

A very nice copy of the second printing (the first was privately distributed, and is nearly unobtainable), of this celebrated Mormon memoir, that offers a positive insider's view of plural marriage and territorial Utah. Warmly inscribed by the author's son (and the main driver and benefactor for this publication), O.C. Tanner and his wife Grace: "To Darley and Alice / with ever and ever / affectionate regards / Grace and Obert [O.C.]"

"A Mormon Mother, which Annie Clark Tanner wrote in long hand in 1941 in her 77th year, seems especially valuable to me as an honest, perceptive account of the human problems of living polygamy during the peaceful 1870s period as well as the more tumultuous era of the underground and Manifesto. She tells her story with remarkable detail drawn from her own memory, her diary, letters to and from her children and husband, and newspaper accounts. As her son Obert C. Tanner says in the foreword to the second printing in 1969, she 'tells it like it was.' " - Charlotte Cannon Johnston, review in 'Dialogue' Summer, 1971

Announcement of Plural Marriage in the British Isles

13- [LDS British Mission]. Report of the London Pastoral Conference, of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Held in the Freemason's Hall, Great Queen Street, Long Acre, on Saturday and Sunday, December 25th and 26th, 1852. Also, a Brief Half-yearly Report of the London Conference, Held in the Eastern Lecture Hall, Whitechapel, Saturday, Dec. 5th, 1852. London: Printed by J. B. Franklin, [1853]. 12,[4]pp. Octavo [20.5 cm] Very good. Evidence of being previously bound with other material (faint glue residue and stab holes to left edge).

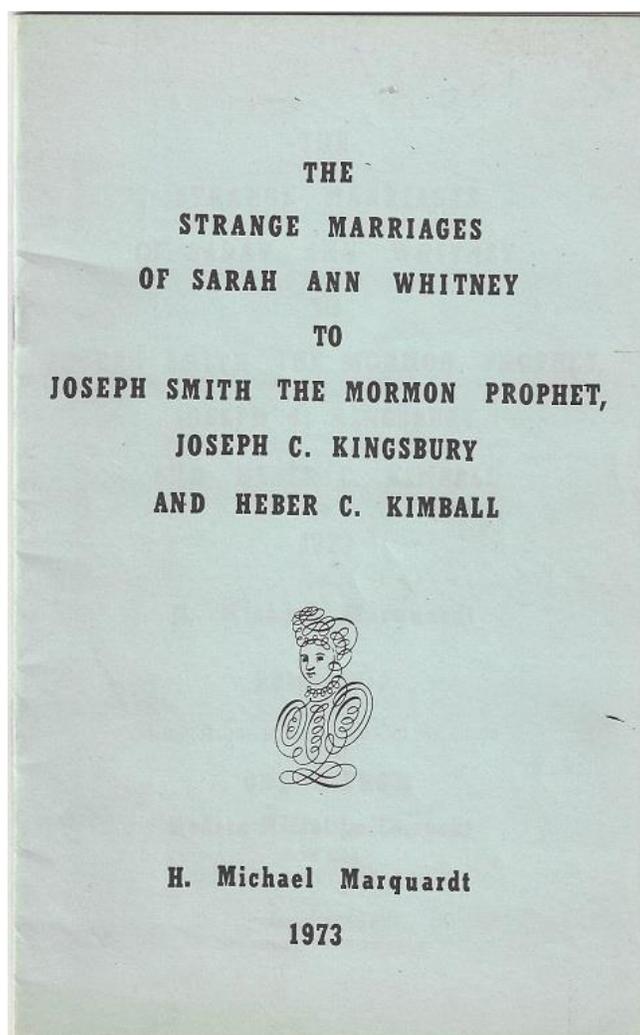

This short work represents the first time that the Mormon faithful in Great Britain would learn of sanctioned plural marriage.

According to Crawley: "Although 'plurality of wives' is explicitly mentioned only twice in the report, it is clear this topic was the major issue at these meetings. Jacob Gates, the pastor over the four conferences, noted in his journal that during the Sunday afternoon session, he spoke in preparation for the reading of the revelation of July 12, 1843 (D&C 132), after which James Marsden read the revelation to the congregation, Job Smith claimed this was the first public announcement of the practice in Great Britain. The report of Gates's discourse in the pamphlet, however, avoids any explicit mention of Plural Marriage. Flake/Draper 1940. Crawley 772. I am able to locate four institutional copies. Rare.

Marquardt's First Work

14- Marquardt, H. Michael. The Strange Marriages of Sarah Ann Whitney to Joseph Smith the Mormon Prophet, Joseph C. Kingsbury and Heber C. Kimball. Salt Lake City: Modern Microfilm Company, 1973. First Edition. 23pp. Octavo [21.5 cm] Printed light blue stapled wrappers. Near fine.

First published work by the noted Mormon historian.

"From the foregoing marriages of Sarah Ann Whitney, her secret marriage to Joseph Smith the Mormon Prophet, being commanded to marry him at the age of seventeen by a special revelation, the 1842 letter written by Joseph Smith to her parents and herself to come to visit him, her living with Joseph C. Kingsbury and her relationship with Heber C. Kimball it must be said: What a strange marriage system!" - from the Summary.

Missionaries on the Reservation

17- Buchanan, Golden R. Teaching Aids for Lamanite Missionaries. [Salt Lake City]: Deseret News Press, 1950. 36pp. Duodecimo [19 cm] Light blue printed wrappers. Better than very good.

Guide for Mormon missionaries serving in predominately Native American areas. Uncommon.

Prepared under the direction of the Indian Relations Committee and published under the direction of the Radio, Publicity, and Mission Literature Committee.

"We have received many requests from missionaries asking for suggestions of how and what to teach the Indians in their homes, as well as in hall and cottage meetings. We suggest the following outline, which is not intended to be complete nor final. The missionary's presentation should be varied and changed to meet the conditions of the Indian people among whom he labors." - from the introduction.
