Usual terms.

Items subject to prior sale.

Call, text: 801-641-2874

Or email: kent@tschanzrarebooks.com

to confirm availability.

Domestic shipping: $10

International and overnight shipping billed at cost.
In January 1896, just days after Utah was granted statehood, Utah Governor Heber M. Wells suggested that the new Legislature assign a committee to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the arrival of Brigham Young’s wagon into the Salt Lake Valley, the Semi-Centennial Commission planned to host a spectacular four-day celebration to honor the surviving pioneers. Only one year after Utah’s statehood, organizers wanted the Pioneer Jubilee to be “the biggest celebration in the country since the 1893 World’s Fair” and the largest event yet to be seen west of the Mississippi. The Jubilee served the dual purpose of showing the great advancement of the area in 50 years as well as demonstrating 1847 as the significant founding date of Utah (rather than 1896 statehood).

"Salt Lake City has perhaps never before been so packed with enthusiastic sightseers. The streets cease to be streets about the time when parade begins – they are rivers of humanity in which the people surge to and fro, here moving rapidly for a stretch in ripples of anticipation toward some happening a block or two away, there forming a whirlpool which moves round and round some striking object of interest." - Deseret News (1897/7/21).

$100

Nice view of the Dixie Gum float.

In January 1896, just days after Utah was granted statehood, Utah Governor Heber M. Wells suggested that the new Legislature assign a committee to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the arrival of Brigham Young's wagon into the Salt Lake Valley, the Semi-Centennial Commission planned to host a spectacular four-day celebration to honor the surviving pioneers. Only one year after Utah's statehood, organizers wanted the Pioneer Jubilee to be “the biggest celebration in the country since the 1893 World’s Fair” and the largest event yet to be seen west of the Mississippi. The Jubilee served the dual purpose of showing the great advancement of the area in 50 years as well as demonstrating 1847 as the significant founding date of Utah (rather than 1896 statehood).

"Salt Lake City has perhaps never before been so packed with enthusiastic sightseers. The streets cease to be streets about the time when parade begins – they are rivers of humanity in which the people surge to and fro, here moving rapidly for a stretch in ripples of anticipation toward some happening a block or two away, there forming a whirlpool which moves round and round some striking object of interest." - Deseret News (1897/7/21)

$100

Nice view of the 'Home of the Wave' float.

In January 1896, just days after Utah was granted statehood, Utah Governor Heber M. Wells suggested that the new Legislature assign a committee to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the arrival of Brigham Young’s wagon into the Salt Lake Valley, the Semi-Centennial Commission planned to host a spectacular four-day celebration to honor the surviving pioneers. Only one year after Utah’s statehood, organizers wanted the Pioneer Jubilee to be “the biggest celebration in the country since the 1893 World’s Fair” and the largest event yet to be seen west of the Mississippi. The Jubilee served the dual purpose of showing the great advancement of the area in 50 years as well as demonstrating 1847 as the significant founding date of Utah (rather than 1896 statehood).

"Salt Lake City has perhaps never before been so packed with enthusiastic sightseers. The streets cease to be streets about the time when parade begins – they are rivers of humanity in which the people surge to and fro, here moving rapidly for a stretch in ripples of anticipation toward some happening a block or two away, there forming a whirlpool which moves round and round some striking object of interest." - Deseret News (1897/7/21)

$70
In January 1896, just days after Utah was granted statehood, Utah Governor Heber M. Wells suggested that the new Legislature assign a committee to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the arrival of Brigham Young's wagon into the Salt Lake Valley, the Semi-Centennial Commission planned to host a spectacular four-day celebration to honor the surviving pioneers. Only one year after Utah's statehood, organizers wanted the Pioneer Jubilee to be “the biggest celebration in the country since the 1893 World's Fair” and the largest event yet to be seen west of the Mississippi. The Jubilee served the dual purpose of showing the great advancement of the area in 50 years as well as demonstrating 1847 as the significant founding date of Utah (rather than 1896 statehood).

"Salt Lake City has perhaps never before been so packed with enthusiastic sightseers. The streets cease to be streets about the time when parade begins – they are rivers of humanity in which the people surge to and fro, here moving rapidly for a stretch in ripples of anticipation toward some happening a block or two away, there forming a whirlpool which moves round and round some striking object of interest." - Deseret News (1897/7/21)

$90

View of a group of nicely dressed women riding on a covered float.

In January 1896, just days after Utah was granted statehood, Utah Governor Heber M. Wells suggested that the new Legislature assign a committee to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the arrival of Brigham Young's wagon into the Salt Lake Valley, the Semi-Centennial Commission planned to host a spectacular four-day celebration to honor the surviving pioneers. Only one year after Utah’s statehood, organizers wanted the Pioneer Jubilee to be “the biggest celebration in the country since the 1893 World’s Fair” and the largest event yet to be seen west of the Mississippi. The Jubilee served the dual purpose of showing the great advancement of the area in 50 years as well as demonstrating 1847 as the significant founding date of Utah (rather than 1896 statehood).

"Salt Lake City has perhaps never before been so packed with enthusiastic sightseers. The streets cease to be streets about the time when parade begins – they are rivers of humanity in which the people surge to and fro, here moving rapidly for a stretch in ripples of anticipation toward some happening a block or two away, there forming a whirlpool which moves round and round some striking object of interest." - Deseret News (1897/7/21)

$100
6- Savage, Charles Roscoe. 'American Fork Canon'. Salt Lake City: Savage & Ottinger, (c.1872). CDV. Carte de visite. Albumen [5.5 cm x 9.5 cm] photograph on the original cream-colored mount [6 cm x 10 cm] Pioneer Art Gallery backstamp on the reverse. Contemporary ink identification at the left edge. 'American Fork Canon.' Strong contrasts and in nice condition.

Image is a down canyon view with the Old Mill shown in the foreground.

Charles Roscoe Savage (1832-1909) was an accomplished and prolific photographer who lived successfully within his Salt Lake City community and traveled widely throughout the West taking photographs and befriending other important photographers of his day such as Carleton Watkins, Edward Wilson, Timothy O'Sullivan, Alfred Hart and A.J. Russell. Savage took several of the West's most famous images at the celebration of the joining of the transcontinental railroads at Promontory Point, Utah in 1869. Savage also took the first photographs of what became Zion National Park.

$500
7- Savage, Charles Roscoe. Baby Portrait. Salt Lake City: C.R. Savage Art Bazar, (c.1895). Albumen panorama [10 cm x 25 cm] photograph on a gray mount [16.5 cm x 30.5 cm] with 'C.R. Savage - Art Bazar, Salt Lake City, Utah' blind stamped beneath the image. Gentle overall wear.

Image of the same baby seated and dressed in a white gown, three times. An unusual Savage panorama on an uncommon mount.

Charles Roscoe Savage (1832-1909) was an accomplished and prolific photographer who lived successfully within his Salt Lake City community and traveled widely throughout the West taking photographs and befriending other important photographers of his day such as Carleton Watkins, Edward Wilson, Timothy O’Sullivan, Alfred Hart and A.J. Russell. Savage took several of the West’s most famous images at the celebration of the joining of the transcontinental railroads at Promontory Point, Utah in 1869. Savage also took the first photographs of what became Zion National Park.

$50

Image shows the Church Buttes formation of western Wyoming, which was a prominent landmark on the Mormon Trail. "Church Buttes - 5 miles S. of R.R. 25 m. E. of Bridger - looking west."

Charles William Carter (1832-1918) grew up in England and after converting to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, emigrated to the United States. Carter and his wife Sarah reached Salt Lake City in 1864 where he continued the photographic practice he began in England. Carter initially worked for C.R. Savage before starting his own studio in 1867. Over the years Carter partnered with a number of photographers including J.B. Silvis and C.W. Symons. In 1906 he sold his collection of negatives to the Salt Lake City Bureau of Information for $400. $500

Image shows a mountainous landscape with a small stand of trees in the foreground with snow-capped mountains in the background, possibly Little Cottonwood Canyon. "Summit East."

Charles William Carter (1832-1918) grew up in England and after converting to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, emigrated to the United States. Carter and his wife Sarah reached Salt Lake City in 1864 where he continued the photographic practice he began in England. Carter initially worked for C.R. Savage before starting his own studio in 1867. Over the years Carter partnered with a number of photographers including J.B. Silvis and C.W. Symons. In 1906 he sold his collection of negatives to the Salt Lake City Bureau of Information for $400.
10- [Cruze, James]. Oregon or Bust! 300 Wagons. [Los Angeles]: Paramount Pictures, 1922. Silver gelatin photograph [20 cm x 25.5 cm] with gentle overall wear.

Black and white view of a line of prairie schooners stretching across the barren landscape. The caption in the lower right corner reads: 'The Covered Wagon' Paramount Pictures - Camp Cruze - Utah - 1922.' Promotional photograph for the 1923 silent film 'The Covered Wagon,' which was filmed in western Utah and eastern Nevada.

"Camp Cruze, Utah, near Baker, Nev., Oct. 17th. Well, here we are after a strenuous week on Antelope Island in the Great Salt Lake where James Cruze started his mighty production, 'The Covered Wagon,' with the buffalo hunt scenes. There experiences that will never be forgotten befell us all." - from 'Paramount Pep' (1922).

$40
11- [Industrial Photography] [Mining]. Kennecott Tailings Pond, Magna and Saltair. [Salt Lake City]: (c.1980). Large Aerial photograph [98 cm x 147 cm] [39" x 58"] on Kodak paper and in a handsome black frame [109 cm x 157.5 cm] [43" x 62"]). Image is bright and in nice condition.

Very large aerial photograph showing the Kennecott tailings pond and Magna with Interstate 80 and Route 201 bordering the pond and the Great Saltair [III] visible at their junction. The Great Salt Lake runs along the foot of the image. A strangely beautiful image of the tailings pond that has been in use since 1906.

$250

"The author is of the opinion that John Taylor would have had a remarkable history even if Mormonism had not found him; for he possessed those qualities of mind which would have made him a leader and a reformer among men. It is quite probable, too, that in the event of Mormonism not finding him, he would have won more of the honors and applause of men; for while his connection with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints threw him into prominence, the disrepute in which that Church is held brought reproach and odium upon him from the world. Had the courage and unselfish devotion which he brought to the support of Mormonism been given to some reform movement less odious in the estimation of mankind, his conduct would have called forth the highest encomiums from all men; but as those virtues were displayed for the interest and advancement of Mormonism, the world either refused to recognize them at all, or accounted them fanaticism merely, for which no praise was due." - B.H. Roberts. Flake/Draper 7331.

$375
Biography of the Mormon leader penned by his grandson and part of the informal short series of biographies published in the late 19th century of LDS leaders. "The death of President Kimball, on the 22nd of June, 1868, was a calamity so sudden and heavy in its effect upon his family, as to almost paralyze thought and effort. Though trained to independence and self-reliance, under his wise government, and never pampered in ease and luxury, they had ever looked to him for guidance and support, and had never known the weight of responsibility resting upon him as their parent and provider, only as from time to time he had taken certain ones into his confidence and permitted them to share his burdens. In his absence they were as sheep that had lost their Shepherd." - Orson F. Whitney. Flake/Draper 9772.

$150
The document is a transcription of the testimony given before the judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit of the state of Missouri, on the trial of Joseph Smith, Jr., and others, for high treason, and other crimes against that state. February 15, 1841.

This is the aftermath of the Missouri/Mormon War, which was a conflict between Smith's followers and their non-Mormon neighbors. This work contains testimony against Joseph Smith and other Mormon leaders for treason, arson, burglary, etc., against the state of Missouri. An important piece of early LDS history.

"But, whatever, may be the name of the sect or church, whose doctrines Mr. Page professes to preach and inculcate, or under what estimation they may have heretofore been held by a prejudiced and uninquiring community, so far as they bear, as their main characteristic, a literal and unqualified interpretation of Scripture, and followed by a strict belief in Biblical doctrine, and accompanied by such an explanation as the dictates of nature and reason teach an impartial mind to be correct, so far are we bound to coincide with them. We are vulnerable to truth..."

"This document includes copy of the testimony given before the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Missouri beginning November 12, 1838, regarding the Daughter’s of Zion (since called the Danites) and their work to drive non-Mormons from Caldwell Co., Missouri." - Fales and Flake 4. Flake/Draper 5428. Sabin 83239. Auerbach 1225.

$675

"The Author trusts that the following pages will show that the history of Mormonism is capable of affording much instruction to the student of human nature, and valuable lessons to those who aim at the propagation of truth, or the extirpation of falsehood. A salutary moral is attached to all the leading events connected with its progress; and strange as those events may appear, they are fully deserving of philosophical investigation in connection with the present aspect of Protestant communities. At the same time, it is hoped that the narrative is presented in a form which will interest the general reader, and enable him to trace with facility the gradual progress of this extraordinary delusion." - from the Preface. Flake/Draper 1237. Howes C235. Sabin 11478.

$300
During his imprisonment Lee wrote the story of his life, confessing his participation in the Massacre. After having been sentenced to die, he entrusted the document to William W. Bishop, his attorney, together with all papers, letters and journals then remaining in his possession. All his journals were returned to the Lee family except No. 6 [this journal] which Bishop retained. Because of his possession of Lee's confession, Bishop's life was in danger, but secretly leaving the Territory he safely delivered the manuscript to a publisher in St. Louis, thus fulfilling a promise made to its author. - p.13

This work was edited by the noted historian, Charles Kelly, and privately printed for Rolla Bishop Watt, in a numbered edition of 250 copies, which this is number 218. Records events connected with the 1847 Mormon migration and the Mountain Meadows massacre, as well as other events. Howes L208. Auerbach 704. Scallawagiana 91. Not in Six-Guns.

$400
17- Cannon, George Quayle. Writings from the Western Standard. Liverpool: Published by George Q. Cannon, 1864. 512pp. Octavo [22 cm] 3/4 blue sheep over matching boards with the title and bands gilt stamped on the backstrip. Ex-lib. with the usual marks otherwise very good.

The Western Standard was printed in San Francisco from February 1856 to the fall of 1857, when, due to the Mormon War, it was summarily discontinued. The articles (upward of a hundred) embrace a most important group of facts and incidents connected with the pioneer West, the plains, Utah and California. Outlawry and depredations in the Carson Valley; the Indians; the Vigilance Committee; the Overland Railroad, etc. Eberstadt 114: 199. Flake/Draper 1174. Auerbach 178. Crawley 1061 (mentioned). Howes C115.

$200

Signed by Heber J. Grant on the front free endsheet.

"Two leading aims were kept in view in its compilation, viz: first, to create an interest in the hearts of the youth of the Church in the marvelous faith, work, toils and sacrifices of the founders of this great latter-day religious fabric: second, to provide a handy medium from which that large class of visitors and other persons, who have neither time nor inclination to read the more ponderous books on the subject, might obtain, from an authentic source, desired information on Mormonism." - from the Preface. Flake/Draper 90.

$50

Uncommon vest pocket printing of the Book of Third Nephi from The Book of Mormon.

"The teachings of this book should be familiar to every member of the Church. It is with hope that many thousands will read and enjoy the glorious truths taught herein and thus be led to become familiar with all the books of that sacred record, The Book of Mormon, that this special edition of the Book of Third Nephi is published by the Young Men's and Young Women's Mutual Improvement Association of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints."

$40

Subtitled: 'Names of the First and Second Quorums. Items in Relation to the First Presidency of the Seventies. Also, a Brief Glance at Enoch and His City. Embellished with a Likeness of Joseph Smith, the Prophet, and a View of the Kirtland Temple.'

Uncommon work that contains a brief history of the Seventies and a list of those originally appointed and ordained and the setting up the first Quorum of the Twelve. This is followed by a short history of Enoch and the gathering of Zion.

"On the 8th day of February, in the year of our Lord 1835, the Prophet Joseph Smith called Elders Brigham and Joseph Young to the chamber of his residence, in Kirtland, Ohio; it being on the Sabbath day. After they were seated and he had made some preliminaries, he proceeded to relate a vision to these brethren, of the state and condition of those men who died in Zion's Camp, in Missouri....When he had relieved himself of his feelings, in describing the vision, he resumed the conversation and addressed himself to Brother Brigham Young. Said he to him, 'I wish you to notify all the brethren living in the branches, within a reasonable distance from this place, to meet at a General Conference on Saturday next. I shall then and there appoint twelve special witnesses, to open the door of the gospel to foreign nations, and you,' said he (speaking to Brother Brigham), 'will be one of them.'" Flake/Draper 10082.

$40

Signed by the Apostle and theologian, Bruce R. McConkie in the upper right corner in black ink. Brief mention of Mormonism. Ambitious map/chart from John B. Sparks that attempts to chart the entirety of world religions through known history.

$150
22- [Polygamy] U.S. Congress. House. Committee on the Territories. Execution of the laws in Utah. [To accompany bill H. R. 1089.] February 3, 1870.—Recommitted to the Committee on the Territories and ordered to be printed. Mr. Cullom, from the Committee on the Territories, made the following report. The Committee on the Territories, to whom was referred House bill No. 696, "A bill in aid of the execution of the laws in the Territory of Utah, and for other purposes," have considered the same, and make the following report. [Washington DC]: [Government Printing Office], 1870. 41st Congress, 2d Session. Report 21, 1-3. 3 volumes. 19,15,8pp. Octavo [23 cm] Previously bound wrappers with stab holes at left margin. Very good. Minor overall wear.

Polygamy laws throughout the United States with a focus on the activities in Utah. "The practice of polygamy by the Mormon people of Utah is the result of a pretended revelation of God to Brigham Young. This practice is abhorrent to the civilization of the age, and to every Christian nation upon the globe. As has been said, it is made a criminal offense in any of the Territories by the laws of the United States." - p.5. Flake 9151. Fales 347.

$50

Contains the fold-outs 'A. Plans, Sections & Elevations of a Post Headquarters Building, designed for erection at Fort Thornburgh, Utah. 1881' [74 cm x 50 cm]; 'B. Proposed Buildings Fort Thornburgh. Utah Ter.' [51 cm x 73.5 cm]; 'C. Proposed Buildings Fort Thornburgh. Utah.' [52.5 cm x 43 cm]

Architectural drawings for proposed structures at the short-lived Fort Thornburgh in eastern Utah, by G.W. Field with two pages of introductory material. The Fort was constructed after the Meeker Massacre and the forced relocation of some Utes to the Uinta basin.

"Fort Thornburgh was first established in September 1881 by Captain Hamilton S. Hawkins near the present site of Ouray, Utah. In April 1882 the fort was moved under the direction of Captain J. P. Schindel, acting in Captain Hawkins’s temporary absence. The new location of the fort at the mouth of Ashley Creek continued until its abandonment in 1884. This short-lived fort is more famous for the events that brought its name and its establishment than for its scant three years of existence."

- p.201 'Utah History Encyclopedia'

$75

Small broadside printed to promote a play put on by the Yale ward. The players are listed with a short synopsis of scenes below. Advertisement at the foot for flowers from Millers or Ellison's. Presumed rare.

$30

D&RG promotional piece that is illustrated throughout. Offers a short history of the settlement and growth of Utah, and includes profiles of Salt Lake, Ogden and the Great Salt Lake. Contains some really neat illustrations, including one of the tramway in Little Cottonwood.

"The vast improvements wrought by the industrious and frugal pioneers of Utah, the great natural resources of the territory, the balm of its health giving and invigorating climate, the wonders of the majestic mountains, the sylvan beauties of its unrivaled valleys, the new relations of amity and progress that have sprung into life between all the religious sects of the territory, and especially in Salt Lake City, the enterprise of energetic railroads, the building of great irrigating canals the establishment of manufactories, the growth of mining, in short, all those great strides towards absolute preeminence, which Utah has made, have been to a great extant ignored in the past." - from the Preface. Not in Flake/Draper.

$75

Suggestions for the prospective tourist to Salt Lake City with brief descriptions of six tours offered by The Gray Line exploring the city and surrounding attractions (Bingham Canyon, Great Salt Lake, and the Cottonwood Canyons. Small bird's-eye view map [10 cm x 18 cm] of the Salt Lake Valley from the north (looking south).

"One of the World's unique cities. Determination and vision coupled with religious zeal and leadership have builded this city from the desert. The story of the Mormons. Who are they? What did they do? How did they do it?"

$30
27- [Salt Lake City] [Royal 76 Gasoline]. Salt Lake City Street Map. [Chicago]: Rand McNally, [1956]. Map [58 cm x 45 cm] on a sheet [73 cm x 46 cm] printed in red and blue ink. Very good with folds as issued. Street index at beneath the map.

Reverse contains a map [44 cm x 33 cm] of "Central Utah" (Ogden to Provo); Provo Street Map [17 cm x 22 cm]; Ogden Street Map [21 cm x 16 cm] Each contains an index of streets and points of interest.

Advertisements for Royal 76 gasoline. Detailed map of Salt Lake City shows all the streets between 18th north and 7800 south and Wasatch Boulevard to 4500 west. Golf courses, airports and lakes/waterways are located.

$30
28- Utah State Road Commission [Pictorial Map]. Road Map of Utah. [Denver]: [Smith-Brooks Press], 1939. Map [70 cm x 47 cm] on a single sheet [72 cm x 57 cm] with folds as issued. Very good.

Index for the map borders on the left and right that contains population figures. The foot contains two inset tables, one offers the legend the other lists historical markers. The reverse contains an excellent pictorial map [55 cm x 39 cm] of the state with a list of "Outstanding Scenic and Recreational Attractions" each of which are highlighted on the pictorial map.

$75
Program for a night of midget car races at the Hippodrome Stadium and Speedway in Salt Lake City at 21st south and 8th west. Includes identified pictures of drivers; an entry list (car/driver/owner); double-page blank score card at the center; two captioned shots of a racing wreck; a list of officials, sponsors, concessioners, etc.; lots of great sponsors advertising.

"A full program of midget auto racing is scheduled for the Hippodrome Stadium Sunday at 8pm. The Hippodrome is located at 21st South and 8th West. Seven big events are on the card which is the second big midget program since completion of remodeling of the stadium." - Salt Lake Telegram (8/23/1947)

$40
30- [Zion's Cooperative Mercantile Institution]. Z.C.M.I Trade Card. [Salt Lake City]: Zion's Cooperative Mercantile Institution, (c.1890). Trade card [15 cm x 11 cm] Featuring a color reproduction of a rose and a snow scene. Nice condition.

Rare trade card produced for Zions Cooperative Mercantile Institution, known as Z.C.M.I., or the 'People's Store,' is what one historian called America's first department store. Founded in 1868 by Brigham Young to combat the inevitable change that the railroad and outsiders would bring to his Great Basin Kingdom. Although never truly a cooperative, it was hugely successful for 125 plus years and a retail giant in the Interior West.

$40
31- [Zion's Cooperative Mercantile Institution]. Z.C.M.I Trade Card. [Salt Lake City]: Zion's Cooperative Mercantile Institution, (c.1890). Trade card [11 cm x 15 cm] Featuring a color reproduction of a rose and a snow scene. Minor discoloring and staining, more so to back. Two small chips at the head.

Rare trade card produced for Zions Cooperative Mercantile Institution, known as Z.C.M.I., or the 'People's Store,' is what one historian called America's first department store. Founded in 1868 by Brigham Young to combat the inevitable change that the railroad and outsiders would bring to his Great Basin Kingdom. Although never truly a cooperative, it was hugely successful for 125 plus years and a retail giant in the Interior West.

$25

Rare trade card produced for Sadler Mercantile Company and Yellowstone Whiskey which they distributed locally. "Yellowstone Whiskey: Bottled in Bond convinces us there is no better whiskey to be had at any price. Now we want you to get acquainted with Yellowstone Whiskey, bottled in bond - and we want to get acquainted with you. For this reason, we have sacrificed all profits - so you get the benefit. Yellowstone Whiskey regularly sells for $1.75 per quart, but get four full quarts for $6 express prepaid to your town, or, if you live in Salt Lake, we will deliver one of more quarts for $1.50 per quart. No goods shipped c.o.d. Make money orders payable to Sadler Mercantile Co. 123 Main Street, Salt Lake City, Utah." - S.L. Herald Republican (9/22/1912)

$85
33- [Utah]. Utahopoly. Cincinnati, OH: Late for the Sky Production Company, 1992. First Edition. Red box [26 cm x 51.5 cm x 3 cm] with a white panel on the lid that contains the University of Utah logo. Box contains: A game board [48 cm x 48 cm], two dice, five player tokens, play money, property deeds, campus mail cards, contingency cards, diplomas (houses and hotels). Complete. Box shows some minor wear and rubbing with some splitting to one of the corners of the lid. Contents near fine.

Monopoly style game that features buildings on campus and surrounding businesses. The businesses and buildings listed offer a time-capsule to campus life in the early 1990s (Brumby's, Rice Stadium, etc.).

"Buy campus properties and favorite area businesses as you make your way around the board. Collect credit hours and trade them for diplomas. Academic Probation sends you home, or make the Dean’s List and collect a $200 scholarship. Play the traditional version or the 1 hour version. Fun for any alumnus, present or future student or fan." - from the back of the box.

$25

Trivia game in which the players move along the board and the first to reach exaltation wins.

"Exaltation is a fascinating L.D.S. game depicting man's journey from preexistence, through earth life, and on to EXALTATION. It is fun while you learn, and can be played by two or more players. Each player quizzes the other players with questions on the gospel, creating a game of fun, skill and knowledge." - from the booklet.

$65
35- Crawford, Richard L. Quest...a family home evening game. [Salt Lake City]: 1970. [First Edition]. Light green box [41 cm x 21 cm x 5 cm] printed in dark green and yellow, containing a gameboard [41 cm x 41 cm] that is printed in green and white. Six original game tokens and all of the trivia cards, uncut on 18 sheets (yellow [41], green [96], pink [96], blue [42]) and the instruction sheet. Complete. Contents and box in very good condition.

*Players advance along the board toward the Celestial Kingdom by answering questions, the game ends when all the players have made it to the Celestial Kingdom."

"Quest is a game centered around the family home evening. There are two major objectives of the game. The first objective is to encourage all of the family to keep all of the commandments." - 'Philosophy of the Game' - instruction sheet.

$20
36- Schoenfeld, J. Stanley & Elizabeth. Seek: L.D.S Quiz Game. Salt Lake City: Bookcraft, 1958. Brown box [18.5 cm x 13 cm x 5 cm] with a lid printed in red, black and white. Box contains: 4 answer sheets, 400 question cards, and instruction sheet. Complete. Box and contents are in nice condition.

"Seek, exciting new L.D.S. quiz game for Family Night: Ideal for the whole family - all ages. Teaching aid: Splendid for Sunday School, M.I.A., Priesthood or Firesides. Useful missionary tool. Knowledge: Informative on all basic doctrines. Subjects to choose from include: Old Testament - Salmon Cards; New Testament - Yellow Cards; Book of Mormon - Pink Cards; Doctrine & Organization - Blue Cards. Parties: Fun to play, easy to score, exciting and interesting for all. Seek! And ye shall find." - from the instruction sheet.

$15

The object of the game is to be the first player to accumulate 150 "Testimonies," at which point you "finish mortality."

"Warm up to the other players as you invite each other over for dinner, as you happen to bump into them for a visit, as you administer to the sick, take turns being the bishop, or counsel over financial difficulties. Run to fellowship the player who lost all his testimonies, and you will gain more strength for yourself. You can play Mortality over and over again without getting tired of it." - from the box.

$20
38- [Mormon] [LDS]. Mormon Trivia. Toluca Lake, CA: Jensen-Evans Productions, 1984. White box [27 cm x 27 cm x 8 cm] with the lid printed in gold ink. Box contains: 'Inspiration' page, spinner assembly instructions, instruction sheet, printed playing board [51 cm x 51 cm], player tokens and pieces, spinner, single die, box of trivia cards. Complete. Minor wear and discoloration to box. Contents nice.

Very similar in play and style to Trivia Pursuit.

"Mormon Trivia by Jensen/Evans Productions is the only trivia game with Inspiration. Inspiration makes the game fun for any level of play, depending on the clue you give!" - from 'Inspiration' page.

$20

The object of the game is to answer the question cards and the first player/team to 35 points wins.

"Two separate sets of questions for Adults and Children. Adults can play...Children can play...Both adults and Children can play. 600 questions to test your knowledge of the Bible, Book of Mormon, Church History, Scriptures, and many other Gospel subjects. Specifically designed for play by both adults and children from 8 years of age and older. Perfect for Family Nights, Parties, Home Firesides, Sunday School, M.I.A. and Priesthood. An excellent review and challenge for all students of the Gospel. Any number can play." - from the instruction manual.

$40

Two-sided Mormon themed puzzle. One side prints a 'Book of Mormon Sampler' of 72 scriptures. The reverse prints 'America's Witness for Jesus Christ - The Book of Mormon' with 46 scriptural references. "Fun! A Challenge! Pictures on both sides."

$40