1- Barker, Vincy R. Map for Book of Mormon Study. Ogden, UT: 1911. First Edition. Map [25.5 x 36.5 cm] on a single sheet [28 cm x 39.5 cm] printed in black ink. Folds (as issued?), otherwise nice condition.

Book of Mormon-centric world map intended for Relief Society classes, that locates sites in Central and South America in the Book of Mormon, including Zarahemla, City of Nephi, Desolation and the Land of Promise. Important places in the founding and establishment of the Mormon Church in America are also located (Sharon, Cumorah, Palmyra, Kirtland, Nauvoo, Independence, Council Bluffs, and Salt Lake City.)

"Prepared Especially for Relief Society Classes Approved by the General Board Designed to give the student a general view and lasting impression of Book of Mormon lands from the beginning of Nephite and Jaredite history at Jerusalem and Babylon, Asia, to their close in America. With the arrangement of the map of the World with the Western Hemisphere at the right we see at once all the countries and the leading cities involved in Book of Mormon and early Church history. Because of the uncertainty and difference of opinion existing in regard to the location of Book of Mormon points only such locations are made as our leading Book of Mormon students seem to harmonize upon, leaving teachers to make minor locations for their own use according to their own interpretation of the text." - Vincy R. Barker (Woman's Exponent - Vol. 41: No. 5.)

This is not a map that we have handled previously. We locate four institutional holdings. Not in Flake/Draper. Rare.

2- Smith, Joseph. The Book of Mormon: An Account Written by the Hand of Mormon, Upon Plates Taken from the Plates of Nephi. Liverpool: Published by Orson Pratt, 1849. Second European Edition. 563pp. Sextodecimo [14 cm] Original black blind stamped sheep with the title gilt stamped on the backstrip. Previous owner's names in ink on front pastedown and endsheets, with family births recorded in ink beginning on page 563. Subtle professional restoration to the hinges and backstrip. Title page is tipped in.

It has been noted that the first European printing of the Book of Mormon in 1841, helped to build the LDS Church, through the conversion of thousands and thousands of English speaking Europeans (primarily British), and the proof for this is the second British edition which was printed 7 years after the initial 5,000 copy print run (coincidentally this span matches the time between the American first and second).

According to Crawley: "The first European edition of the Book of Mormon had been in print almost eight years when the Millennial Star of December 15, 1848, noted that all copies had been sold and a new edition would appear in May, 'perhaps sooner.' Two months later the Star announced that Orson Pratt was then in the process of having 5,000 copies each of the Book of Mormon and Doctrine and Covenants printed and bound, and May 15, 1849, it advertised the new edition of the Book of Mormon." Flake/Draper 600. Auerbach 1175. Sabin 83043. Crawley 415.

3- [Mormon] [LDS] Parley P. Pratt, Thomas Ward, Wilford Woodruff, Orson Hyde, Orson Spencer, Orson Pratt, Franklin D. Richards and Samuel W. Richards. Latter-day Saints' Millennial Star. Manchester & Liverpool: May, 1840 - December, 1852. Volume 1, Number 1 - Volume 14, Number 42. 14 numbered volumes in 89 books. Octavos [22 cm] Eight are in contemporary leather bindings. Volume 2 has been rebound in black buckram. Most very good or better.

Bound at the rear of Volume 11 are Sheffield Conference Reports for the Fall of 1849 and for the Spring and Fall of 1850. Volume 5 contains the August 1844 Supplement 'Awful Assassination' which announced the murder of Joseph Smith and his brother, Hyrum, at the Carthage Jail.

The Millennial Star was the longest running LDS periodical, published continuously for 130 years until it was discontinued in 1970 with the overhaul of all the LDS magazines. Inaugurated by the Twelve at the beginning of their great mission to England, its first editor was Parley Pratt who labored alone on the magazine until June 1842 when he was joined by a British convert Thomas Ward. Ward became editor and publisher in November 1842, serving until October 1846 when he was replaced Orson Hyde, president of the British Mission. Thereafter, the British Mission president assumed the editorship.

Initially the Star was a monthly. With the issue of June 15, 1845 (vol. 6, no. 1), it was changed to a semimonthly and continued as such until April 24, 1852 (vol. 14, no. 9) when it was issued weekly. It remained a weekly until 1943, when it was changed back to a monthly.

"It would be impossible to fully write the history of either the LDS British Mission, the LDS foreign missions in the nineteenth century, or of the Church itself without mention of this important periodical. Published in pamphlet form, it regularly provided the informational and inspirational glue which held the Church in Europe and Asia together during the past century." - Mormon Imprints p.11

Even though the Star was published primarily for the members of the Church in England, it is an important record of the progress of the whole of Mormonism, especially of the nineteenth century Utah church. "But for this publication," notes H.H. Bancroft, "it would be impossible to fill the gaps which occur in the record of the Mormon people." - Mormon 50:14. Crawley 71. Flake/Draper 4779. Woodward 123. Auerbach 691. Scallawagiana 19.

Savage's son, Ralph Savage. The first edition contains a photo of the Holy of Holies, which was omitted from later editions. Flake/Draper 8637.*

Title gilt stamped on the backstrip. Very good. Minor sunning to the backstrip and rubbing to the corners. Index at the rear.

Rare supplement that was produced to accompany Warrum's four volume work, 'Utah Since Statehood.' Work contains 64 biographical sketches of the leading men of Utah in the early 20th century. Each sketch is a few pages and each is accompanied by a full-page tipped-in steel-engraved portrait (tissue leaves present for all).

This appears to be an unrecorded variant of Flake/Draper 9604, as the size and page count differ. We locate two institutional holdings for this variant (UU, Huntington). This is not something that we have encountered or handles previously. Rare.

6- Jenson, Andrew. Latter-Day Saint Biographical Encyclopedia: A Compilation of Biographical Sketches of Prominent Men and Women in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Salt Lake City: Published by the Andrew Jenson Company and Printed by the Deseret News, 1901,1914,1920,1936. Exhaustive collection of biographical sketches of members of the LDS Church by Andrew Jenson. This set was serialized and there was a 35-year span between the first volume and the fourth and final.

"On the rolls of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints are found the names of a host of men and women or worth - heroes and heroines of a higher type - who have been and are willing to sacrifice fortune and life for the sake of their religion. It is for the purpose of perpetuating the memory of these, and to place on record deeds worthy of imitation, that the Latter-day Saint Biographical Encyclopedia makes its appearance. The necessity and importance of such a work has been more and more realized by the author during the many years he has spent in gathering material for a detailed history of the Church, and this has prompted him to devote much time in the preparation of this work." - Andrew Jenson (Preface). Flake/Draper 4413.

7- Whitney, Orson Ferguson. History of Utah: Comprising preliminary chapters on the previous history of her founders, accounts of early Spanish and American explorations in the Rocky Mountain region, the advent of the Mormon pioneers, the establishment and dissolution of the provisional government of the state of Deseret, and the subsequent creation and development of the territory. Salt Lake City: George Q. Cannon & Sons, 1892,1893,1898,1904. First Edition. 4 volumes. 736,860,755,706pp. Quartos [28 cm] Full pebbled leather with decorative gilt stamping to boards and title gilt stamped on backstrips. All edges gilt. All volumes very good. Minor wear at the extremities.

Complete set of Whitney's mammoth work dedicated to the first five decades of the Territory or Utah. Complete with the rare fourth volume, that was printed in a much smaller number than the previous three and only to satisfy prepaid and subscription copies.

*The finest book ever published in this territory is now ready and will be furnished to subscribers without delay. It is the first volume of the History of Utah by Orson F. Whitney. The mechanical work and the general appearance of the book will be an agreeable surprise to the public. It is beautifully printed on first class paper it is handsomely bound and gilt and the illustrations are of the highest order of the engraver's art. A history of Utah is necessarily at least in the commencement a history of the Mormons, and that involves a history of Mormonism. The first volume then treats largely of the origin and progress of the Mormon faith. This story is told with a fidelity to the facts which renders it truly valuable and will make it a work of reference in years to come." - Deseret Weekly News (1892/05/28). Flake/Drapers 9769. TULLIDGE'S
QUARTERLY MAGAZINE.

No. I. OCTOBER, 1883. Vol. III.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF WILFORD WOODRUFF.

CHAPTER I.

FAMILY SKETCH. MY EARLY DAYS AND MINISTRY.

In tracing the history of my fathers, I find it difficult to obtain a satisfactory account of the Woodruff family for more than three generations.

My great grandfather, Josiah Woodruff, lived nearly one hundred years, and possessed an iron constitution, and performed a great amount of manual labor nearly up to the time of his death. His wife's name was Sarah; she bore to him nine children as follows:—Josiah, Appleton, Eldad, Elisha, Joseph, Rhoda, Phebe, and two names not given.

My grandfather, Eldad Woodruff, was the third son of Josiah. He was born in Farmington, Hartford County, Connecticut, in 1751; he also possessed a strong constitution; it was said that he performed the most labor for several years of any man in Hartford County, and from over exertion in hewing timber he was attacked with rheumatism in his right hip, which caused severe lameness, for several years before his death. He married Dinah Woodford, by whom he had seven children, viz:—Eldad, Elizabeth, Samuel, Aphek, Titus, Hellen, and Ozem. Eldad married Lewey Woodford; Elizabeth, Amasa Frisby; Samuel, Miss Case; Aphek, Beulah Thompson and Arabah Hart; Titus, Louisa Allen; Hellen, Amos Wheeler; and Ozem, Acksab Merrill and Hannah Hart; all of whom had large families.

My grandfather died in Farmington, with the spotted fever in 1806, aged 55 years. My grandmother, Dinah, died in 1824, in the same place, with a cancer in the left breast; her sufferings were very great.

My father, Aphek Woodruff, was born in Farmington, November 11th, 1778; he married Beulah Thompson (who was born in 1782) November 29th, 1801. She bore three sons, namely:—Azmon, born November 29th, 1802; Ozen Thompson, born December 22d, 1804; myself, born March 1st, 1807.

My mother died with the spotted fever, June 11th, 1808, aged 26 years, leaving me fifteen months old. My father's second wife, Azubah Hart, was born July 31st, 1792; they were married November 9th, 1810; they had six children, viz: Philo, born November 29th, 1811, and died by poison administered by a physician November 25th, 1827; Asahel Hart, born April 11th, 1814, and died in Terrahaute, October 18th, 1831; Franklin, born March 12th, 1816, and died June 1st; Newton, born June 19th, 1818, drowned September, 1820; Julius, born April 22d, 1820, and died in infancy; Eunice, born June 19th, 1821. I married her to Dwight Webster in Farmington, Connecticut August 4th, 1841.

My father was a strong constitutioned man, and has done a great amount of labor. At eighteen years of age, he commenced attending a flouring and saw mill, and continued about 50 years; most of this time he labored eighteen hours a day.

He never made any profession of religion, until I baptized him with all his household into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on the first day of July, 1838. He was a man of great charity, honesty, integrity and truth, and made himself poor by giving to the poor, and accommodating his fellow men by loaning money and becoming surety for his neighbors, and always saying yes, to every man who asked a favor at his hand.

I was born in the north part of the town of Farmington, now called Avon, Hartford County, Connecticut, March 1st, 1807. I assisted my father in attend-

George H. Brimhall
from
President Franklin S. Harris
B.Y.U.,
Dec 3-1929

9- Oaks, L. Weston. Medical Aspects of the Latter-day Saint Word of Wisdom. Provo, UT: Brigham Young University, 1929. First Edition. 126pp. Duodecimo [20 cm] Burgundy cloth with the title gilt stamped on the front board. Near fine.

Inscribed by George H. Brimhall to Franklin S. Harris in the year of publication on the front free endsheet: "George H. Brimhall from President Franklin S. Harris B.Y.U. Dec. 3 - 1929." Nice association copy linking two Presidents of B.Y.U. (George Brimhall was President of B.Y.U from 1904 to 1921, and Franklin Harris was his successor in the position from 1921 to 1945) with an academic/religious work that was published by Brigham Young University.

The Word of Wisdom was first printed in 1835, and for the first century of its existence, it was seen largely as advice, but Heber J. Grant wanted to promote adherence to the Word of Wisdom as a precondition for entering LDS temples or holding office in any Church organization; and indeed, by 1930 abstinence from the use of alcohol, tobacco, coffee, and tea had become an official requirement for those seeking temple recommends. Flake/Draper 5969.

10- Quinn, D. Michael. Early Mormonism and the Magic World View. Salt Lake City: Signature Books, 1997. First Edition. 313pp Octavo [23.5 cm] Dark green cloth with the title gilt stamped on the front board and backstrip. With the exception of the usual sunning to the jacket's spine, this copy is nice. Very good/Near fine.

Signed and dated (in the year of publication) by the author on the title page. This thoroughly researched examination into occult traditions surrounding Smith, his family, and other founding Mormons cannot be understated. Among the practices no longer a part of Mormonism is the use of divining rods for revelation, astrology to determine the best times to conceive children and plant crops, the study of skull contours to understand personality traits, magic formulae utilized to discover lost property, and the wearing of protective talismans. Ninety-four photographs and illustrations accompany the text.

11- Smith, Joseph. Edited by Scott H. Faulring. An American Prophet's Record: The Diaries and Journals of Joseph Smith. Salt Lake City: Signature Books, 1987. First Edition. 1/500. 504pp. Octavo [24 cm] Gray cloth with a turquoise cloth wraparound. Near fine.

This is the first title published in the Signature Books 'Significant Mormon Diaries' series. This work was limited to 500 numbered copies, this is copy 22.

Throughout these diaries significant events are recorded, such as the first ritualistic washings, perfumings, anointings, and washing of feet; early sealings and polygamous marriages (often recorded in shorthand); meetings of the Council of Fifty; and other important episodes in the history of the development of the Restoration church.

Published for the first time in their entirety, the personal diaries of Mormon founder Joseph Smith (1805-44) provide an unequalled view of this controversial American religious leader. Previous compilations of carefully selected and sometimes rewritten passages of Smith's diaries and journals do not capture the intensity of the present, unexpurgated edition.

12- Cannon, Martha Hughes and Angus M. Edited by Constance L. Lieber and John Sillito. Letters from Exile: The Correspondence of Martha Hughes Cannon and Angus M. Cannon, 1886-1888. Salt Lake City: Signature Books, 1989. First Edition. 1/500. 286pp. Octavo [24 cm] Gray cloth with a light blue cloth wraparound. Near fine.

This is the third title published in the Signature Books 'Significant Mormon Diaries' series. This work was limited to 500 numbered copies, this is copy 496.

"Through this edition of the letters of Martha Hughes and Angus M. Cannon, we are pleased to present a view of a nineteenth century Mormon polygamist couple set against a backdrop of the historical forces they confronted. The letters were written while 'Mattie' lived on the 'underground' in England in order that Angus could escape federal prosecution for the practice of polygamy." - from the Preface.

13- Smith, John Henry. Edited by Jean Bickmore White. Church, State and Politics: The Diaries of John Henry Smith. Salt Lake City: Signature Books, 1990. First Edition. 1/500. 700pp. Octavo [24 cm] Gray cloth with a red cloth wraparound. Near fine.

This is the fourth title published in the Signature Books 'Significant Mormon Diaries' series. This work was limited to 500 numbered copies, this is copy 3.

John Henry Smith (1849-1911) filled many public, private and ecclesiastical positions during his lifetime. Including, Second counselor to his cousin Joseph F. Smith in the First Presidency of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, president of the Utah Constitutional Convention in 1895, co-founder of the Utah Republican Party, and an active participant in a dozen business enterprises.

14- Clayton, William. Edited by George D. Smith. An Intimate Chronicle: The Journals of William Clayton. Salt Lake City: Signature Books, 1991. First Edition. 1/500. 580pp. Octavo [24 cm] Gray cloth with a blue cloth wraparound. Near fine.

This is the fifth title published in the Signature Books 'Significant Mormon Diaries' series. This work was limited to 500 numbered copies, this is copy 303.

William Clayton is best remembered today for his hymns, especially "Come, Come Ye Saints." But as one of the earliest Latter-day Saint scribes, he made intellectual as well as artistic contributions to his church, and his records have been silently incorporated into official Mormon scripture and history. Of equal significance are his personal impressions of day-to-day activities, which describe a social and religious world largely unfamiliar to modern readers.

15- Clawson, Rudger. Edited by Stan Larson. A Ministry of Meetings: The Apostolic Diaries of Rudger Clawson. Salt Lake City: Signature Books, 1993. First Edition. 1/500. 803pp. Octavo [24 cm] Gray cloth with a yellow cloth wraparound. Near fine.

This is the sixth title published in the Signature Books 'Significant Mormon Diaries' series. This work was limited to 500 numbered copies, this is copy 28.

Clawson's diaries provide an unequalled opportunity to look into a previously inaccessible area: the deliberations of the highest councils of the LDS Church. Clawson was aware that others would read what he had written. Accordingly, he does not record in his diary anything that he personally felt was inappropriate or that he did not want future readers to know. But Clawson was such a dedicated diarist, one is able to view through his eyes various developments during this transitional period. They are a gold mine of historical information and provide details of interest to the general reader as well as the serious researcher.

16- Swapp, Addam. Day of the Eagles: The Red Blood of Israel. [Pioneer Press / Ogden Kraut?], (c.1989). 296pp. Octavo [21.5 cm] Red printed wrappers. Very good. Head of backstrip bumped. This work has the look, feel and design aesthetic of Kraut publications from this time period.

Religious and political manifesto by the former leader of the Singer/Swapp group who in 1988 bombed a L.D.S. Stake Center in Marion, Utah with fifty pounds of dynamite, this led to a two-week armed standoff with the local authorities, the F.B.I. and the A.T.F. that resulted in the death of Officer Fred House. Swapp believed that this conflict would begin a chain of events that would culminate in the resurrection of his father-in-law, John Singer, who was killed nine years earlier in armed standoff with local authorities.

"This book contains an account of one of the longest sieges in history. It tells the life story of the families involved and describes their fight for freedom under the U.S. Constitution, resulting in the shedding of blood by those very Americans who claim to uphold those freedoms. It includes the courtroom testimonies about the LDS Church bombing and the events preceding and following it. The author, Adam Swapp, states that he has written what God has commanded him to write, including a discussion on where the eagles shall stand. This publication is written to the House of Israel here in America, especially to the American Indians who are descendants of the tribe of Joseph. Let freedom ring forever!" - 'Synopsis' on the reverse of the front cover [Ogden Kraut?].
